PROFILE

Computer scientist and NLP researcher specializing in multilingual, multimodal, and multicultural language technologies. Ph.D. from Carnegie Mellon University (advisor: Tom Mitchell); previously Assistant Professor of Computer Science at Boston University and postdoctoral researcher at the University of Pennsylvania (advisor: Chris Callison-Burch). Research spans mechanistic interpretability and steerability of language models, model editing, evaluation frameworks and LLM-as-a-judge, and data-efficient adaptation for low-resource languages, with a parallel program building culturally grounded resources and benchmarks (indigenous scripts, honorifics, code-switching) and applying NLP to societal challenges including bias, polarization, toxicity, and misinformation. Author of work at ICML, ICLR, ACL, NAACL, and EMNLP; principal or co-investigator on grants from Google, DARPA, the Open Society Foundation, Danida, and others.

RESEARCH INTERESTS

- Interpretable & steerable LMs: mechanistic interpretability of multilingual/multimodal models, safe model editing, controllability, hallucination reduction.
- Evaluation of generative models: meta-metrics, LLM-as-a-judge, rubric-agnostic reward reasoning, alignment with human preferences.
- Low-resource & multilingual NLP: data-efficient transfer (circuit-targeted fine-tuning), machine translation from dictionaries and grammars, code-switching generation.
- Multicultural AI & cultural heritage: culturally aware large multimodal models, preservation of indigenous scripts, honorific systems.
- NLP for society: bias, polarization, toxicity, hate speech, and misinformation; computational framing analysis; AI for health.

ACADEMIC APPOINTMENTS

Associate Professor, Data Science — Monash University, Indonesia Program Coordinator, Data Science (2024–present). Co-Director, Monash Data & Democracy Research Hub (2023–present).	2022 – present
Assistant Professor, Computer Science — Boston University Now Adjunct. Co-Director, AI and Education Initiative, Hariri Institute (2021–2022).	2018 – 2022
Postdoctoral Researcher, Computer & Information Science — University of Pennsylvania Advisor: Chris Callison-Burch.	2016 – 2018

EDUCATION

Ph.D., Language Technologies Institute — Carnegie Mellon University Advisor: Tom Mitchell. Thesis: VerbKB — A Knowledge Base of Verbs for Natural Language Understanding.	2016
M.Sc., School of Computing — National University of Singapore Advisor: Stephane Bressan.	2010
B.Comp., School of Computing — National University of Singapore	2004

AWARDS & FELLOWSHIPS

- Best Data Researcher, Data Science Indonesia Award (2021)
- University Provost's Career Development Professorship, Boston University (2019)
- Anita Borg Scholarship, Google (2013)
- International Science & Technology Fellowship, Fulbright (2010–2016)

COMPETITIVE RESEARCH GRANTS

Over $2.3M USD raised as Principal Investigator or Co-Investigator. Selected:

- LEARN: Label-Efficient Active Resilient Network — DARPA (Learning with Less Labels), $462k (Co-PI), 2019–2022
- BIGDATA: Multiplatform, Multilingual, and Multimodal Tools for Analyzing Public Communication in 100+ Languages — NSF, $1,000,000 (with M. Betke, L. Guo, P. Ishwar), 2018–2022
- AIDA: Semi-supervised Learning of Multimodal Representations — DARPA, $100k (with C. Callison-Burch), 2019–2020
- Bridging Linguistic and Visual Knowledge through Visual Genome — Hariri Institute Research Incubation Award, $28k (PI), 2019–2021
- ExploreCSR: Supporting and Promoting Undergraduate Research for Women — Google, $18k, 2019–2021
- Digitalising Waste Management for a Just Green Transition in Indonesian Smart Cities — Danida (Denmark), $300k
- Contextualizing LLMs for Women's Sexual & Reproductive Health in Indonesia — Google Research Award, $60k (PI)
- Exploring the Evolution of Racial Biases through Framing Analysis — Google Research Scholar Award, $60k (PI)
- IndigiSEA: Indigenous Digital Futures for Southeast Asia — Monash Incubator Grant, $53k
- Boosting Monash's Global Reputation: Data & Democracy Hub — Monash Incubator Grant, $53k
- Monitoring Hate Speech toward Vulnerable Communities, 2024 Indonesia Election — Open Society Foundation, $37k
- Sea-Tech: Sustainable Seaweed Cultivation through Smart Technology — PAIR (Australia-Indonesia), $35k
- Exploring Generative AI for Moderating Online Polarisation — Monash Data Futures Institute, $35k (PI)
- ASEAN Disinformation Index — Monash Data Futures Institute, $33k
- Bhinneka: Multilingual Indonesian Resources — Indonesian Ministry of Education (US Collaboration), $30k

RESEARCH SUPERVISION

Doctoral Students (8 total: 4 ongoing, 4 completed, all with top-venue output)

- Ongoing: Khumaisa Nur'aini (Monash), Adryan Kusumawardhana (Monash), Zilu Tang (BU), Ge Gao (BU).
- Tahsina Hashem (Monash, 2026) — Faithful and Fair Text Generation from Structured and Visual Data.
- Muhammed Yusuf Kocyigit (BU, 2025) — Improving Evaluation Practices in NLP: Contamination and Metric Limitations.
- Afra Feyza Akyürek (BU, 2025) — Advancing Neural Networks Beyond Initial Training.
- Isidora Tourni (BU, 2023) — Neural Machine Translation for Low-Resource Conditions.

Master's Students (selected; many with first-author papers at ACL/ICLR)

- Garry Kuwanto (BU, 2026) — MetaMetrics: a Bayesian optimization framework for calibrating LLM evaluation metrics (ICLR 2025).
- Iwan Darmawan (Monash, 2024) — Javanese Honorific System corpus (ACL 2025).
- Fariz Akyas (Monash, 2024) — Annotator Identity in Indonesian Political Polarization Corpus (ACL Findings 2025).

Full supervision record (15+ Master's and Undergraduate students) available on request.

TEACHING

Unit Coordinator, Master of Data Science, Monash University Indonesia. Selected courses with most recent student evaluation (SETU) scores:

- Machine Learning (ITI5201) — 82/100 (2026). Grounds ML in real-world societal challenges.
- Data Analysis for Semi-Structured Data (ITI5212) — 86/100 (2026). Focus on generative AI and LLMs.
- Master Thesis supervision (ITI5126-5229) — 88/100 (2025). Students published and presented at top conferences.
- Data Wrangling (ITI5196) — 86/100 (2024)
- Introduction to Data Science (ITI5145) — 82/100 (2022)

LEADERSHIP & PROFESSIONAL SERVICE

Academic Leadership

- Program Coordinator, Data Science, Monash University Indonesia (2024–present).
- Co-Director, Monash Data & Democracy Research Hub (2023–present) — partnerships across government, academia, and civil society; convened the Data & Democracy Dialogue (Jakarta 2024; Kuala Lumpur 2025).
- Faculty of IT Course Governance, Quality & Resourcing Sub-committee (2026–present); Education Committee (2024–present); Research Committee (2024–2025).
- Co-Director, AI & Education Initiative, Hariri Institute, Boston University (2021–2022).

Community Service to the Field

- Area Chair / Senior Area Chair / Session Chair for ACL conferences, ICLR, and NeurIPS (ongoing).
- Organizer: AACL 2026 (Hengqin); 2nd Workshop on Southeast Asian Language Processing (COLING 2025); 7th Workshop on Computational Approaches to Linguistic Code-Switching (NAACL 2025); AACL 2023 (Bali).
